SEVEN FAVORITES IN FIRST.
N DAY OF ORDINARY RACING AT GRAVES.

THE LAMPLIGHTER-TAMMANY MATCH STILL UNSETTLED—HOPE THAT IT WILL TAKE PLACE.

Favorites swept the card at Gravesend yesterday, all seven races being captured by the public favorite. There was nothing especially attractive about the programme, and the crowd was lighter than usual. G. Walbaum was one of the early arrivals at the track, and endeavored to be at the head of the race to increase his offer for a match between his horse Lamplighter and Tammany. A lot of messages were carried back and forth, and finally Mr. Walbaum announced that a match had been made between the two colts, the terms of which were $2,500 a side, with $5,000 added by the association. The race is to be run Thursday, September 28, at Guttenburg, the colts to carry 122 lb. and the distance a mile and a quarter. A number of bets had been made on the result, when Mr. Byrnes came forward and denied the story that an agreement had been reached. He said that the colts had been made to him, and he had declined it, and would make no under any considerations make the match for less than $5,000 a side, with $5,000 added by the association. There is hardly a doubt, however, that Mr. Byrnes's terms will be accepted to, and that the race will take place.

The opening race of the day brought to the post a field of four, of which Kildeer was made the favorite at 6 to 5. Mildred was on Kildeer, and had a little difficulty in landing her the winner by a length and a half. Deception second, a short head in front of Lizzie.

That good filly Kentenka rode the best of the quartet of two-year-olds that made up the field for the second race, and she was of course the favorite, yet so heavy was the support given to both Quenlike II and Ormus that as good as 6 to 5 was offered against her at all times. She won like a champion, and then bringing her to the front. She won well in hand by a length, Ormus second, a length in front of Quenlike II.

The third race was for maidens, and four of most mediocre quality appeared. Tiny Tim was the favorite, and he managed to reach the finish, but under a heavy handicap, and he was second, the winner by a length and a half. Jordan second, four lengths in front of Isabella.

With Tammany scratched in the fourth race, Raceland was pronounced on as a moral, 1 to 2 and even 2 to 5 being gladly taken against him. He won, but hardly in the manner his backers expected, as Sims had to ride him hard from the head of the stretch to win by a short length from Sir Matthew, who beat Experience a neck.

Armature showed the Yale blue of his new owner for the first time in the fifth race. In the opening betting as good as even money was obtainable against him, but when the stable commission was on 1 to 2 was the best obtainable. He looked to be beaten at the head of the homestretch, but ran in the gampest possible manner under punishment, and at the end won by a long head. Deception second, three lengths in front of Kazan.

The sixth race brought a "killing" for the McCafferty & Wishard combination. They had in Little Billy, a horse unknown in the East, but in the West a frequent winner. They backed him down from 10 to 2 to 1, and, after a good race, he won by a head, his owner, who rode him, drew him off to avoid showing the true form. Quiver, who had made all the running, was second, four lengths in front of Speculation.

For the first time in the season, a horse named after a woman, Miss Jim, was one of the heavy favorites in the last race, with the last named the choice at the close. She won the race, and the first four, and at the finish won by a length. Tigress second, three lengths in front of Minnehaha.
